Pizzato DNA99 Single Vineyard Merlot 2008 I.P.V.V.

1999, the first winegrowing vintage for PIZZATO, only 15.500 bottles were made; the wine was the Pizzato Merlot 1999. When launched, by Sept, 2000, the Pizzato Merlot 1999 became the 'reference' wine for the merlot varietal potential in Vale dos Vinhedos/Serra Gaúcha area. Currently, the merlot is considered the best varietal for red wines in Serra Gaúcha/Vale dos Vinhedos.

So, taking the same vineyard that provided grapes for Pizzato Merlot 1999 as the origin, PIZZATO presents this very exclusive Merlot made only in years which presented a growing season that resembled the 1999 one. That's the reason the wine was called dna99: same location/vineyard, older vines, lower production, similar growing season and same people behind the winegrowing.
